MARK 9:35

Jesus teaches us that we are called to serve one another. Sacrifice is not a word that many people like to hear. We think it means that we must give up something that we want. However, the literal meaning of sacrifice is "to make holy," from the words "sacer" = sacred and "facere" = to make. In other words, we make our lives holy by sharing our

PRAYER MEETING

Our next Prayer Meeting will be Saturday, September 29th, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. It will be held in the Rectory Meeting Room. All are invited! Any questions, please contact: Alma Bright at 314-353-2372.

Dear Parishioners,

Our Lord identifies Himself with a little child to teach His Apostles about leadership. He tells them: "If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all" (Mark 9:35), and then He takes a child and says: "Whoever receives one child such as this in my Name, receives me; and whoever receives me, receives the One who sent me" (Mark 9:37).

It is common among social animals to order themselves in some fashion. For any group to survive or complete an activity, there must be some order. How many times have we experienced the situation, where someone will make the comment: "They're all chiefs and none are braves." This means, of course, that everyone wants to be in charge rather than getting down to business. When we all wish to go our own way, then nothing gets done. Of course, the opposite is also true. I am sure we have also experienced situations where, to use the phrase above, "they are all braves, but no chiefs," meaning that no one wants to take the responsibility of guiding the group, especially when the stakes are high, and one mistake on his or her part would brand him or her forever as the one who ruined things.

Our Lord's words are poignant for both situations. Where there are too many eager to be "large and in charge," His counsel that anyone who wishes to be a leader must seek the good of all others in the group before his or her own. When someone seeks to be the greatest for his or her own good before thinking about those whom he or she is called to guide, risks becoming a leader who devours, rather than nourishes. Where there are none who desire to shoulder the responsibility and risk of taking on leadership, the error is still the same: all are looking out for themselves rather than the good of all. Thus, His counsel that we should seek the good of all others in the group before our own should encourage someone who has the calling to be the leader, to make an act of generosity

While we may not have to take on the leadership of the entire Church, nation, military unit or company, most of us are called to exercise leadership in one form or another, where we are put into a position to guide a group of individuals towards a common goal. Our Lord's counsel is excellent for parenting as it is in pastoring, in society as at home, at work as in the parish, etc. We are called to seek the good of all more than safeguarding and promoting my own ambitions.

Faith can assist us in this, as we recognize that even in the highest offices in this world, we remain disciples, students and followers of our Lord Jesus Christ. This truth can humble us, as it reminds us that all of our endeavors should aim ultimately toward the glory of God. This truth also consoles us, that even at the most precarious times, our Lord is with us to guide us.

Finally, a big word of thanks for all those who participated in the Rummage Sale! Thus far, it has made over $7000, and we are waiting to see what other proceeds may come in. Of course, it is not only the money, but also the stewardship and community built by such a work. Thanks to all!

In the Hearts of Jesus & Mary,

Joke of the Week

Fund-Raising

The church choir was putting on a car wash to raise money for their annual tour. They made a large sign which read, "Car Wash for the Choir Trip." On the given Saturday, business was terrific, but by two o'clock, the skies clouded and the rain poured, and there were hardly any customers. Finally, one of the young girls had an idea. She printed out a large cardboard poster which read, "We

PETER AND PAUL MEN'S SHELTER

Thank you to all who continue to generously donate financially and materially for the men who are experiencing homelessness. Without you we wouldn't be able to offer the services or items that they desperately need.

A gentleman, who once lived at the shelter, has gainful employment through the Bridge Bread organization. He has been in his apartment and off of the streets for a little over a year! He attended our Rummage Sale last year and this year. We always greet each other with big smiles and hugs. It is so good to see him happy! He said he misses our volunteers and the fried chicken! God bless him. I invited him to go to the shelter with us sometime and he can serve from the other side of the food line! He said, it would make him feel real good to be able to do that.

"Lord, may he continue to remain successful."

T-shirts, shorts,

jeans,

Short sleeve and long sleeve Tee-shirts,

WHY ARE THEY ASKING FOR THIS?

Recently we have been requesting information for an emergency contact person. Did you wonder why are we asking for this?

There have been times that one of us at the rectory have tried several attempts to contact parishioners with no success, or a Communion Minister knocks on the door and no one answers. It causes us concern for you. Various scenarios run through our minds, such as; what if you are home and something is wrong; or if you are in the hospital? Most importantly, we want to know if you are safe.

As pilgrims together on our journey, we awaken anew to the wonder of Earth, our common home, and to ways of protecting the web of life. Jesus was attentive to the beauty of Earth in "the lilies of the field," "the grain of wheat" and "the birds of the air" and through his parables he invited others to be aware of these marvels.

This week we honor the element of earth and the gifts of the soil which nourish both our bodies and our spirits. Trees remind us of our rootedness within the community of life, plants call us to mindfulness of our dependence on Earth's bounty for sustenance, and flowers speak of new life. All of these invite us to live with profound gratitude for Earth's abundance and beauty.
