Dear Parishioners,

St. James describes the Father as He who “willed to give us birth by the Word of truth that we may be a kind of firstfruits of His creatures” (James 1:18). This means to say that the Father has given us a new birth in the Spirit with the gift of His Son, and with that, we are those first offerings of an abundant harvest. The Word is like a seed that is sown within our souls that will save our souls, and the way we can tell that we are responding well to what we have received is that we not merely listen to the Word, but we must cooperate with it: “Be doers of the Word and not hearers only, deluding yourselves” (James 1:22). If we have truly received the Word into our hearts, there will be an affect within how we live and conduct ourselves. We are not merely passive spectators watching the drama of salvation being played before us, but we are immersed within the history of salvation. How we think, speak and act are woven into this reality that we call salvation, and where we end up at the final call, depends on how faithful we have been to the gift we have received from Christ Jesus.

Among the signs of fidelity to the religion that we have received from the Word are charity with those who are put aside by the world, let alone keeping our hearts and minds pure from the world, as St. James continues to teach: “Religion that is pure and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to care for orphans and widows in their affliction and to keep oneself unstained by the world” (James 1:27). In the Old Testament, there are many references to widows and orphans, who are symbols of all those left without assistance or protection. Without someone to sustain them, they are left with little means to provide for themselves, and they have to rely on the wider community to help them, until they are able to provide for themselves or are adopted by a family. St. James offers a practical and objective measure as to whether the practice of believers is authentic or not.

as to whether the practice of believers is true to God. The “world” in this sense is the fallen condition of humanity which only seeks to do what is good when it is easy to do, or if it avoids greater suffering from our present condition. For example, I go to work not as a good in itself, but rather as a means to avoid the suffering of poverty. Or another example: I worship God not out of love of Him, but I want to avoid the risk of Hell. And another: It is easier for me to sell out certain tenets of faith because it hurts the “feelings” of people I am close to, rather than seeing the greater good in those tenets of faith and challenging others to see it as well. There are various ways that we can take on the mind of the fallen “world.”

May our Lord, through the intercession of our Blessed Mother and St. James, assist the faithful among the clergy, religious and laity in the here and now to manifest the glory of God through the authentic practice of the faith!

In the Hearts of Jesus & Mary,

Joke of the Week

An exasperated mother, whose son was always getting into mischief, finally asked him, “Tommy, how do you expect to get into heaven someday?” The boy thought it over and explained, “Well, I’ll just run in and out and in and out and keep slamming the gate until St. Peter says, ‘For heaven’s sake, Tom-

SENIOR MOMENTS

KEEPING THEIR FOCUS ON GOD

Have you ever had a bad day, little sleep, problems on your mind, just don't feel good? Felt a little sorry for yourself? On those kind of days have you ever been abrupt with someone, didn't take a moment to smile or offer a kind word? I hate to admit it, but I have. I know that none of the scenarios are an excuse. Last week while visiting I had several moments of awareness.

- ♦ I walked into a nursing home to visit a woman who hasn't had a visitor in almost six months. She had a gentle shining smile that lit up the room. She asked me how things were going at Immaculate Heart of Mary.
- ♦ I spoke to a woman whose husband is dying, a few of her children have serious health problems and all of this is on her shoulders. She greeted me with a smile and asked how my family is getting along.
- ♦ I visited an interesting gentleman. I always enjoy his great stories, our conversations and laughter! He is in constant pain which continues to increase. Yet, he greeted me with a smile and a hug.

None of these people used their Cross as an excuse for rudeness or indifference. They are an inspiration. It reminds me of the scene in the movie, The Passion, where Jesus is being brutally scourged, the whip was tearing at his flesh, blood splattering, the pain is incredible, people are jeering.....and our loving Lord pleads with His Father "Forgive them, they know not what they do." It still brings tears to my eyes when I remember His unfaltering love and concern for others. I often pray that I may have the same forgiving, sincere, compassionate love. I thank God for the opportunity to witness that love in the people He puts into my life. I thank Him for their goodness and their ability to keep their focus on their blessings and their strong reliance on faith.

WHAT IS A STEPHEN MINISTER?

We all go through tough times in life. When times that are challenging and unsettling, it can be very helpful to have someone come alongside us to give us encouragement and understanding. That is what a Stephen Minister does - provides a listening ear, support, and God's Word to help us through the challenges of life.

Stephen Ministers are compassionate individuals who are trained to help us when we encounter these troubles in life. They are not counselors or "fixers" when it comes to dealing with difficulties. They simply provide care and support when we need it and help us navigate our present situation.

Two years ago, our parishes involved in the SGSM network began the Stephen Ministry program. Since that time, fourteen Stephen Ministers have provided over eighteen people with one-on-one care. If God is calling you to care and support others in this way, find out more by coming to Informa-

SEASON OF CREATION
SEPTEMBER 1-OCTOBER 4

Week 1
Caring for Our Common Home

Pope Francis has proclaimed September 1st a day of Prayer for Creation and the beginning of the liturgical Season of Creation, which concludes on October 4th, the feast of St. Francis of Assisi.

The theme of this year's Season of Creation is "walking together." Pope Francis writes, "A great cultural, spiritual and educational challenge stands before us, and it will demand that we set out on the long path of renewal" (Laudato Si', #202). Joining with other Christian denominations, we also follow Jesus, who walked with friends on the roads of Palestine and now invites us to encounter God through the divine presence in creation.

Realizing that the Universe began with a great radiance some 13.8 billion years ago and our own sun was born about 5 billion years ago, we especially honor the element of fire during this first week. The generous sun has given heat and light to Earth for billions of years; no wonder a flame represents the loving heart of Jesus and St. Francis of Assisi spoke affectionately of "Brother Sun"!

Action Steps:

- Turn off lights not being used.
- ♦ Replace incandescent light bulbs with CFL or LED bulbs.
